Indiana Fiber Internet

What Is It?

A brand-new, state-of-the-art fiber optic network is being built exclusively for the Bloomington, Columbus, Shelbyville and Bartholomew County! Once the network is fully built, every resident and business will have access to it. Residents can order service in advance to save their spot in line to be installed. Properties will be installed and serviced once construction is completed in their area.

Don't Miss Out!

Your tenants need faster, more reliable Internet to work, learn, stream and play from home. Now is the best time to connect your property to the new fiber network in Bloomington, Columbus, Shelbyville and Bartholomew County. As GigabitNow's fiber Internet services surpass all of the incumbent providers in the area for speed, reliability, and customer support, many renters will be eager to sign-up!
